C. President's Report

President Hetherington thanked board members for attending several college events in the past month including the county executive’s budget hearing, the nursing pinning ceremony, the legislative breakfast, the Maryland Association of Community Colleges (MACC) reception, winter convocation, and McCuan Hall dedication. She thanked Nancy Gainer, executive director of public relations, for working on the story of nursing student, Angelique Grant. President Hetherington also reported that she had met with Dr. Peter Beilenson, health officer for Howard County, to talk about providing access to healthcare for uninsured students and employees through the Healthy Howard initiative. HCC received a $190,000 grant from MedStar Health for two positions in the health sciences area and another grant from the Maryland Higher Education Commission through the Base Realignment and Closure program for a regional higher education center; HCC received $44,500 for a microbiology lab at the Laurel College Center. She also mentioned that the senior administration had its semi-annual meeting the Howard County Public School System; collaborative programs include college readiness and STEM initiatives. Cindy Peterka, vice president of student services, reported that FTE and headcount for spring 2009 is up 13 percent from last year.
D. Board Member Comments

Chair Truby mentioned that these challenging times are a good opportunity to tell our story to legislators; the other board members, the president, and he, had the opportunity at the Maryland Association of Community Colleges (MACC) annual reception to talk to legislators. He said he enjoyed the McCuan Hall dedication and was pleased to see so many legislators, board members, and the county executive at the event. He also commended Dr. Janet Zadina’s presentation on brain research and its relevance to teaching and learning.

Trustee Dillow reminded the board of the March 9 Hunan Manor fundraiser for the Silas Craft Collegians program. She mentioned that former board member, Roger Caplan, is now an adjunct faculty at HCC teaching American history. She thought the legislative breakfast was excellent and having parents speak resonates with legislators.

Trustee Tung congratulated faculty and staff who had received grants recently; she said it was testimony to their work that they are able to receive grants in these tough economic times. She echoed earlier comments on the McCuan Hall dedication and said the portrait of the McCuans by Yifei Gan is gorgeous.

Trustee Huddie mentioned that the recent grant from the Horizon Foundation makes a big impact because it allows HCC to serve an underserved part of the county.
